

Product Navigation Bar & Updated Inbox Interface

Last Modified on 04/22/2025 9:39 am EDT

Product Navigation Bar

In an effort to help you move seamlessly across our products, consolidate product settings in one area, and discover more about other Updox product offerings, we have implemented a new product navigation bar. This navigation bar replaces the old Menu-Home navigation in the Inbox and will exist on all of your Updox Products.

Get a feel for the new navigation experience by checking out our demo - <https://app.supademo.com/demo/cm9mxsf915eeiljv5txz81iqp?step=1>

Key features of the navigation bar include:

- the ability to order the products in a way that best suits your workflow
- the ability to expand or collapse the navigation bar based on your preference
- the new home of the logout button which appears when clicking your name badge in the bottom corner
- soon, the ability to discover additional Updox offerings and be able to self-enable a free trial of a product you are interested in

Updated Inbox User Interface

Along with the new product navigation bar, we've also given our beloved Inbox a new modernized look.

Get a feel for the updated Inbox interface by checking out our demo - <https://app.supademo.com/demo/cm9n52op65kvnljv5rap0mvdv>

Key points about the Inbox include:

- the Inbox, Sent, Archive, etc folders now exist along the top of the page instead of along the side
- the Admin and Tools menus have been pulled out to their own tabs in the top right corner
- an updated footer which travels with you across the app and based on how your account is configured, may contain links to our Updox roadmap, knowledge base, customer support chat, and our Messenger product.
